Paso Robles City Council Looking for Public Input
Online and in-person options available

PASO ROBLES, CA – The Paso Robles City Council is seeking community participation in its visioning and goal-setting workshop, which will be held on Saturday, February 17. The purpose of the workshop is to ensure that the community develops and evolves in ways that match citizen desires and interests. What should Paso look and feel like in 10, 20, and 30 years? What actions should the City start to take now to ensure that vision comes to pass?

Interested residents can attend in person to be part of the discussion and decision-making, and/or they can contribute their suggestions via the City's website here: www.prcity.com/CouncilGoals

"The City of Paso Robles is very interested in hearing what our citizens want for our community going forward," says City Manager Tom Frutchey. "What kind of community do they hope we continue to create, so that we leave the community to our children and grandchildren in even better shape than it was left to us? We hope that everyone who has views to share and is interested in being part of this process will take this opportunity to either attend in person or send in their thoughts either electronically or by phone."
